The CTL-HSI is an innovative program designed by and for faculty in Hispanic Serving Institutions. ESCALA's course is unique in that faculty receive both workshop time as well as individualized coaching as they make culturally responsive changes to their work with Latinx students.

The 27-hour course includes:

- A 3-day virtual retreat in summer with faculty from other HSIs
- 2 fall virtual workshops to revisit and deepen learning
- 6 hours of 1:1 coaching with a trained reflective coach
- Canvas-based resource library and videos

As a result of the course, faculty complete an equity-based, research driven classroom intervention and present their work to their campus at the conclusion of the program.
